

17 May 2011

ELEGANT RESORTS HONOURED WITH TOP LUXURY ACCOLADE AT ULTRA TRAVEL AWARDS

Luxury travel company, Elegant Resorts is celebrating after being honoured with the prestigious accolade of Best Small Luxury Tour Operator at the Ultra Travel 100 Awards. The awards recognise the very best performing luxury travel companies, hotels, airlines, cruise companies, spas and destinations as judged by Daily Telegraph readers.

The ceremony took place at The Savoy earlier this week. More than 200 travel industry business leaders attended the event along with celebrities and some of Britain's greatest military heroes.

Michelle Sephton, Managing Director at Elegant Resorts was presented with the award from Warrant Officer Karl Ley - who was awarded the George Medal, Warrant Officer Kim Hughes - who was awarded the George Cross and Christina Schmid - whose husband Olaf Schmid was awarded the posthumous George Cross, which the Queen presented to Christina. She said: "We are absolutely delighted to win this award. Our whole ethos is about offering exceptional luxury travel services to our clients, so to be recognised as Best Small Luxury Tour Operator is the ultimate accolade for us."

Elegant Resorts has specialised in bespoke luxury travel for more than 22 years. The company offers exceptional holiday experiences worldwide, complete with personalised itineraries. For more information about Elegant Resorts, visit www.elegantresorts.co.uk or call 01244 897538.

- ends -

For further media information, please contact Angela Jones at Elegant Resorts on 01244 897140 or email angela.jones@elegantresorts.co.uk.

